Rain Fails To Dampen Spirit At Annual Sigma Chi Derby Day

An intermittently cloudy sky, producing large, scattered raindrops, did not dampen the enthusiasm of participants or spectators at Saturday's Sigma Chi Derby Day.

The Derby Day events included five events, plus a mystery event, separate divisions for sorority and independent women.

The first event was "Poe Ditch Dip." In this event, the women were required to retrieve five pennies out of a wading pool of cold water. Sand covered the pool's bottom to hinder penny finding.

Winners in the sorority division were Delta Zeta, first place; Delta Gamma, second; and Alpha Delta Pi, third. East Hall took first place in the independent division, with West Hall, second, and Harmon Hall, third.

The second event, called "Final Frenzy," made its participants run eight times around an upright baseball bat with their heads touching the bat. The participants then had to run to the opposite end of the event field, pick up a whistle, blow it, and then return to the starting line.

Winners in this event in the sorority division were Delta Zeta, first; Alpha Xi Delta, second; and Gamma Phi Beta, third. Independent women's winners were Harmon Hall, first; West Hall, second; and East Hall, third.

The third event, "Dining Hall Drippings," required a participant to have a cup tied to her head, and a teammate filling the cup with a squirting device. The cup then had to be emptied into a small bowl on the ground while the cup was still tied to the participant's head.

Sorority winners were Chi Omega, first; Alpha Delta Pi, second; and Alpha Gamma Delta, third. Independent winners were East Hall, first; West Hall, second; and Harmon Hall, third.

The fourth event was called "Seed Seed Sez." The women, in team of threes, had to eat a quarter of a watermelon without using their hands. Sorority winners were Phi Mu, first; Delta Gamma, second; and Alpha Phi, third. Winners in the independent bracket were West Hall, first; Harmon Hall, second; and East Hall, third.

"Eight O'clock Panic" was the fifth event. This event required each bathing suit-clad contestant to run to a bag, get clothes out of it, return to the starting line, put the clothes on, run back to the bag, take the clothes off and then return to the starting line. Sorority winners were Alpha Phi, first; Alpha Xi Delta, second; and Alpha Delta Pi, third. Independent winners were East Hall, first; Harmon Hall, second; and West Hall, third.

One final mystery event involved participants getting into sleeping bags and zipping them up. While in the sleeping bags, contestants were to take off their socks and sweatshirts and put them on inside out. Then they were to get out of the sleeping bag, and return to the starting line.

Winners in the sorority division were Phi Mu, first; Delta Zeta, second; and Chi Omega, third. Independent winners were Harmon Hall, first; West Hall, second; and East Hall, third.

Awards also were given to the women's organizations winning the most events. The winners in the sorority category were Delta Zeta, first; Chi Omega, second; and Delta Gamma, third. Independent winners were East Hall, first; West Hall, second; and Harmon Hall, third.

The two winners of the participation awards, (most spirit awards), were Alpha Phi from the sorority division and West Hall from the independent division.

"POE DITCH DIP," an event in Saturday's Sigma Chi Derby Day celebration, was won by Delta Zeta in the sorority division, and East Hall in the independent division. The women were required to retrieve five pennies out of a wading pool of cold water. (NEWS photo by Joe Szabo)

New Commons Board Plans Recreation Area For Students

The 12-man governing board of the new Commons dining hall is making tentative plans for the "Ratskeller." This is the name given to the recreational area which will be located in the lower level of the new dining hall.

"Ratskeller" was the name given to old German drinking houses. Eric R. Braun, representative to the governing board from Kohl Hall, said, "We hope to create as nearly as possible the atmosphere of an actual 'Ratskeller.' It is to be a recreational area, and we hope it will be just that. We want this to be a place where students will come and relax."

The "Ratskeller" will seat approximately 275 people. It will be divided into three sections, lounge, snack bar, and the "Ratskeller" proper, where there will be a juke box. The snack bar will be open only certain hours of the day, but the rest of the area will be open all of the time. It was suggested that the snack bar be opened in mid-afternoon, closed for the dinner hour, reopened in the evening, and remain open until midnight during the week, and until 1 a.m. on the week end.

The snack bar is to be wood paneled. The furniture in both the snack bar and the "Ratskeller" will be of heavy oak. The tables are to be of various sizes and shapes. The chairs will be in the design of "captain's chairs." A captain's chair is a heavy wooden chair with the back and arms of the chair being all of one piece. The arms are lower than the back.

The governing board discussed a specially-prepared sandwich which would be called a "Ratskeller Sandwich." The rest of the menu will be something similar to what the "Nest" offers.

Dr. Vergil K. Ort Completes 3-Year Student Teacher Study

Dr. Vergil K. Ort, assistant to the dean of the College of Education, has completed a three-year study entitled "A Study of Some Techniques Used for Predicting the Success of Teachers."

During the 1960-62 school years, 443 seniors in the University's College of Education were tested to see if there might be some correlation between attitudes, personality, predicted success, and college achievement as a student teacher and as a first-year teacher. The cumulative point averages were calculated and the results of the tests were tabulated for correlations.

Prior to the student teaching experience, Dr. Ort said each student was given a 15 minute interview by Dr. Lorraine L. Ort, director of student teaching, and as a result of this interview, each student was given a predicted evaluation as to his probable success as a student teacher. Following the student teaching experience, the student was evaluated by his campus supervisor and his supervising teacher.

At the end of the first year of teaching, following the student's graduation, the same evaluation scale was sent to the school superintendent under whom the teacher had taught. Dr. Ort said the superintendent was asked to have the immediate supervisor of the teacher make an evaluation of the first year's teaching experience.

From the 443 students who participated in this project, 323 accepted teaching positions following graduation. Dr. Ort said that of 323 first year teachers, 273 evaluations were returned.

From this study Dr. Ort said he made the following conclusions. First of all, he said, "There are many variables which are difficult to control when evaluating teachers. Some of the variables are drive, motivation, love of children, philosophy, experimental background, and health. Any one, or any combination of these, may become an important determinant of personality, of attitude, of the success of an individual."

Secondly, Dr. Ort said, "Academic achievement in college does not seem to have any predictive value as to how successful a student will be as a student teacher or as a teacher in his first year of experience.

"There were about an equal number of students with low academic achievement records who, in the judgment of their supervisors, became excellent teachers as compared with the number of people who had high academic achievement and were evaluated as inadequate teachers."

"It was noted, however, that on the extreme ends of the scale, there were more inadequate teachers with low academic achievement records than there were inadequate teachers among the high achievers."

Dr. Ort said that the results from personality and teacher attitude inventories in this study did not have any predictive value as to how successful a person would be as a teacher.

A fourth conclusion Dr. Ort said he drew from this study was "The best predictions of the future success of a student teacher, even though limited, can best be made by the supervising teacher and the campus supervisors. The narrative description made by the supervising teacher and the campus supervisor concerning the student teacher, together with the scale evaluations made by these supervisory persons, provide the most valuable type of recommendation."

Dr. Ort also found that there is no correlation between the score of the student's reading test, his A.C.E. score, and his success as a student teacher or a first-year teacher.

Before valid research can be made, testing whether this program or curriculum is better than another program or curriculum in the preparation of teachers, Dr. Ort said more reliable tests or measuring devices will have to be developed.

In concluding his study, Dr. Ort said, "Much is known about the nature of man, but the measuring devices for predicting the future performance of man need to be refined."

Broncos Dominate MAC Championships

As expected, Western Michigan dominated the Mid-American Conference championships Friday and Saturday at Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Western totaled 104 points in the track competition to finish far ahead of runner-up Ohio University with 63. The perennial titleists captured eight first-places and eight seconds in a fantastic display of power and depth.

The Broncos annexed their tenth straight tennis crown but a powerful Toledo squad almost ended the Western dynasty. The Rockets, behind Bill Nagy's third straight No. 1 singles title, won 15 matches to WM's 18. Bowling Green, 11-2 during the regular season, finished a disappointing fourth behind Miami.

Ohio University made a farce of the golf championships, finishing 41 strokes ahead of surprise runner-up Toledo. The Bobcats captured their eleventh links title in the last 13 years.

OU's Nick Karl was the meet's medalist with a 66-72—138 36-hole total, followed by teammates Bob Littler, 146, Russ Berkoben, 148, and Bill Harding, 151. Bowling Green's top effort was a 77-77—154 by Stu Hughes, the sixth best individual total.

Golf
Bowling Green's golf squad improved upon last year's fourth place finish, but that was not much solace for a team which had compiled the best won-loss record during Coach Forrest Creason's seven-year tenure, with a 13-4 mark.

The Falcon linksters finished third with a 36-hole five-man total of 785, 45 strokes behind champion Ohio U. and four behind Toledo.

Driving rains on Friday and heavy winds on Saturday sent scores soaring, save the Ohio U. golfers, who finished 1-2-3-4 in the individual competition.

Medalist for the Falcons was Stu Hughes with 77-77—165. Other Bowling Green scores were: Burley Chapman, 79-76—155; Skip Wille, 77-79—156; Dick Ambrose, 72-86; Chip Heyl, 78-84—162, and Tom Bollinger, 82-82—164. The five best scores determine the team total.

Ohio U.	740
Toledo	781
Bowling Green	785
Western Michigan	795
Marshall	800
Kent State	803
Miami	822

Falcons Beat Marshall, 4-1, 8-0 To Place 3rd In Mid-American

The Falcon baseball squad concluded its Mid-American Conference season in third place after taking both games against Marshall Friday and Saturday. Today, the Falcons end their 1963 season at Ann Arbor against the University of Michigan.

Powerful Western Michigan was 11-0 in MAC competition to annex the championship, finishing ahead of runner-up Ohio University's 8-3 mark. The Falcons were 7-4 in the MAC.

In Saturday's contest, BG downed Marshall 4-1 with Jack Thompson getting the win on a four-hitter. Thompson didn't allow an earned run, as Marshall scored its lone run on two Falcon errors in the sixth inning.

The Falcons only collected six hits, with no one getting more than one safety.

Jim Keener hurled a one-hit 8-0 shutout, in a rain-shortened six-inning contest Friday.

Keener had seven strikeouts and didn't give up a walk in gaining his third victory of the season against one loss. Last year he finished the season with a 2-3 record.

The Big Green had three errors in the second inning which helped the Falcons score four runs.

Glenn Honeycutt, and Bill Gast both had two hits in four trips to the plate. Honeycutt also had two runs-batted-in as did Cal Caywood.

Bowling Green has an over-all 17-10-1 record.

Ohio U. Captures All-Sports Trophy

Ohio University, despite a traditional strong spring sports showing by runner-up Western Michigan, captured the Mid-American Conference All-Sports Trophy.

The award is presented to the Mid-American Conference member having the best athletic achievement in the nine sports during the year.

The Bobcats, recipients of the award in 1960 and 1961, totaled 49 points, as against Western Michigan's 47 points, to annex its third title. Bowling Green compiled 43½, Miami and Toledo, 41, Kent State, 24½, and Marshall, 9½.

Western Michigan finished strong with championships in baseball, track, and tennis, but the Bobcats likewise closed well, winning the golf title, and capturing runner-up positions in baseball and track.

Ohio finished first in cross country and golf, second in baseball, track, and football, third in basketball, swimming and wrestling, and sixth in tennis.

In comparison, Bowling Green was first in football and basketball, third in golf, cross country, and baseball, fourth in tennis, track, and swimming, and fifth in wrestling.

A last place finish in golf ruined Miami's bid for the award, while a sixth place finish in baseball hurt Toledo's chances.

Bowling Green's Keith Hamilton placed third in the pole vault. Western Michigan teammates Dave Underly and Mickey Turcheck tied for first in the event at 14'6½".

Steve Saelzer finished fourth in the 440-yard low hurdles and fifth in the 120-yard high hurdles. John Childs placed fourth in the 440-yard dash. Bowling Green was fourth in both the 440-yard relay and the mile relay.

Tennis

Coach Bob Keefe's varsity netters battled their way into a second place tie after one day's action in the MAC championships, but were knocked out of the running and into fourth place as the tournament ended.

Friday, the netters appeared to have a shot at at least second place in the tourney. Eventual winner Western Michigan was leading with four team points. Bowling Green and Miami were tied for second with three team points each. Toledo University followed with two points.

During the first day's play, Falcon players Lee Murray, Ted Norris, and Tom Manning won over their opponents, with only Steve Brannan being beaten.

No. 1 man, Murray, downed Sanford Frankel of Miami, 6-3, 6-4. No. 2 man, Norris, clipped Marshall's Bill Jefferson, 6-3, 6-0, and Manning, playing in the third position, upended Dave Calhoun of Ohio University, 6-2, 6-0. Brannan fell to Toledo's Lutz Hahne, 6-2, 6-2. Bowling Green's doubles team of Manning-Rick Rogers drew a first round bye.

Saturday's action was quite a bit different, however, as only two Falcons were victorious, before being eliminated, winning two more team points and bring the Falcons total to five.

Falcon Stickmen Finish Season With 6-5 Victory

Bowling Green's lacrosse team concluded its season Saturday with an impressive 6-5 win over Ohio State's "B" squad.

The Falcon stickmen put forth a well-balanced attack with four players scoring goals and three contributing assists. Mike Corrigan solved the Buckeye defense for three goals, while Steve Shuckra, Ron Luikart, and Don Williams each connected once.

Captain Larry Bice, Bowling Green's leading scorer with 17 points, failed to score a goal for the first time this season, but managed three assists. Dave Lampman and Shuckra had one assist each.

In the final period, after almost 13 scoreless minutes, Corky Williams connected for the winning Falcon goal at 2:37 on an assist by Bice, while the Bowling Green defense blanked the Buckeyes.

Bowling Green attempted 41 shots in the contest, 22 in the first half and 19 in the second, while the Buckeyes attempted 37, 15 in the first and 22 in the second.

The Falcon stickmen finished the season with a 3-2-1 record, defeating Michigan State, Oberlin "B", and Ohio State "B".

By Neil Sanders
NEWS Sports Editor

Saturday, Bowling Green cage standout Wavey Junior was declared ineligible for collegiate competition by the Mid-American Conference's faculty council. In this writer's opinion, it's a (darn) shame.

The council ruled that the seven games in which the 6-2 Junior participated during the 1960-61 season, his sophomore year, constituted a full season.

The decision seemed to be, at best, inconsistent with the best interests and precedents of the Mid-American Conference. It must be considered a ruling against Bowling Green, winner of the MAC basketball crown the last two years, rather than a ruling against Wavey. The decision is an excellent preventive measure for some of the Conference members, envious members, against an unprecedented third consecutive championship for Bowling Green.

With Junior ineligible, only all-Conference guard Howard Komives remains from last year's championship aggregation to defend its crown against contenders-to-be Toledo, Miami, Western Michigan, and Ohio University. It may be too great a burden for one player, even one of Komives' calibre, to carry.

New Falcon cage mentor Warren Scholler, who had been counting heavily on Junior for one more semester of eligibility, was disturbed and "very disappointed" over the council's decision. "He deserves to be able to play his full three years," said Scholler, "He is a great ballplayer."

Bowling Green's 1963-64 team will greatly miss the services of Junior. He is the type of individual that can spark the entire team when it is down. Falcon fans learned to expect the unexpected, the spectacular, the unbelievable play which he so easily performed. It was this unpredictable phrase of Junior's outstanding all-around play that Mid-American opposition (which constitutes the Council) feared.

It was Wavey Junior's talent, not a rule, that declared him ineligible. It is the reward for being a champion.

Dr. Lloyd Helms Proposes Change In Entrance Policy

A proposal regarding departmental graduate committees and a possible change in admission policy was presented by Dr. Lloyd A. Helms, dean of the Graduate School, at the Graduate Council meeting May 13.

The departmental graduate committee proposal consists of three major points.

First, the Graduate Council request each department offering a graduate major to establish a graduate committee. The committee would be made up of three to five members to be chosen from the graduate faculty.

If the department does not have three members on the graduate faculty, one or two members may be chosen from the non-graduate faculty, with the approval of the Dean of the Graduate School.

Second, the graduate committee would be responsible for graduate policy and serve as the graduate curriculum committee for the department.

Third, that in the case of inter-department programs, the Dean of the Graduate School appoints the committee to direct the program. Those persons appointed will be selected because of a real interest in the program and consideration will be given to Graduate Faculty status.

The proposal was passed and adopted as policy.

In other action by the organization, Dr. J. Russell Coffey, professor of health and physical education, and Dr. James P. Latham, associate professor of geography, were accepted to the Graduate Faculty.
